1. The Problem

Lumen & Pine had a list of customers and website visitors but almost never emailed them. New subscribers received nothing after signing up, there was no plan for the holiday season, and nobody tracked which emails led to orders.

2. Goals for the Holiday Season

- Welcome every new subscriber with a three-email series
- Send at least two emails a month to the full list
- Launch the Holiday Collection by email first
- Keep stockists updated on reorder dates
- Track opens, clicks and orders for every send

3. Growing the List

Tool	How it works
Sign-up form	Embedded form on the website and blog in MailerLite: first name and email, with clear consent text
Free guide	"The Candle Care Guide" PDF sent right after sign-up, so people have a reason to join
Landing page	One page linked from Instagram and Pinterest that explains the guide and the newsletter
Checkout opt-in	Customers can choose to join the list when they order (never checked by default)

4. Segments

Segment	Who is in it	What they get
New subscribers	Joined in the last 14 days	Welcome series only
Customers	Bought at least once	Newsletters, launches, care tips
Gift shoppers	Clicked a gift guide or bought a gift set	Gift guides and holiday offers
Not purchased in 90 days	No order in the last 90 days	Gentle reminders and last-call emails
Stockists	Boutiques that carry the candles	Wholesale updates only

6. Before Every Send

☐ Subject line under 50 characters, with preview text that adds new information

☐ One main call to action, as a button

☐ All links clicked and working

☐ Checked on desktop and mobile, and sent as a test to Olivia

☐ Correct segment selected, with stockists excluded from customer emails

☐ Unsubscribe link and business address in the footer

> Only email people who signed up or bought from the shop. Never add contacts from the wholesale lead list to the newsletter without their permission.

7. What We Track

Measure	Why it matters
Open rate	Are subject lines working?
Click rate	Is the content making people act?
Orders from email	Is email helping sales?
Unsubscribes	Are we sending too often or to the wrong people?

Results go into the Email Campaign Tracker after each send, with a short note on what to try next time.
